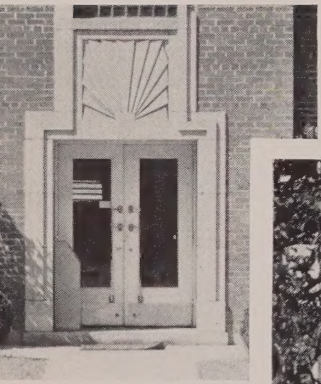
College, Bristol, Virginia

To the STUDENTS

The world we face today is not the rosy, glowing place we always pictured in our dreams. Instead it is a holocaust of flaming terror. For yet a little while there will be no bands playing for us or purple gowns to wear. Ours will be the duty of reconstruction in the world when the devils now at play are vanquished. In the midst of strife and turmoil our cherished ideals may be trampled down. When that day comes, as it is sure to come, and you long for the peace that you used to know, turn to these pages and recapture the spell of Intermont.

Will you ever forget: the wind that tore across Hodges roof and battered you between classes . . . The fish pond that froze over at a mere hint of winter and yet was the first herald of spring . . . sunlight and shadows rivaling each other for supremacy on the drive . . . fish on Friday nights and never-ending "cokes and buns" at the tea-hole . . . the peaceful quiet of Sunday night Vespers and the choir singing "Tread Softly" . . . the tower on Administration sending out a welcoming light for all late-comers . . . outings at the Ranch Camp and club parties downtown . . . the wonderful tan everyone acquired in May from endless hours of baking on the roofs . . . the quiet of study hall disrupted by the 10:00 bell and the mad dash to the tea-hole that followed . . . the bitterness that was winter and the warmth that belonged to spring . . . the bustle and excitement that accompanied a formal dance . . . the gaiety in the halls just before a holiday . . . midnight parties with the shades pulled down and blankets over the door . . . "jitterbugging" in the lounge right after dinner . . . the Monday trek to town and the movies . . . the irritating loudness of the rising bell and the soothing sound of the "lights out" bell . . . snow that lingered in little patches till the sun cleaned house and sent it away . . . nights at Mr. and Miss Cooke's, enjoying the Drama and Art Interest Groups . . . Peanut Week and the formal banquets . . . the Carnival and the Annual dance . . . and through it all your roommate backing you up till the last? Look back and remember—



This Was INTERMONT

We Honor . . .

MRS. DORA HALL MURRELL

Always, among many, there is someone whose memory and overwhelming influence cannot be touched by time's corroding hand.

By the dedication of the 1942 INTERMONT to our esteemed and treasured MRS. DORA HALL MURRELL, Dean of Women, the Senior Class acclaims her "first lady of Intermont" and paramount in our affections.

A MESSAGE

from Our President

Intermont Students—a select group of the finest girls our country produces! We are proud of you. You have enhanced the good name of your school, and have added another successful year to her long history. Her future is safe in your hands.

Gratefully yours,

H. G. Noffsinger,

President.

ADMINISTRATION

MR. NOFFSINGER, JR.

MR. NOFFSINGER, JR.

He knows his business, not only as V. I.'s Business Manager, but as sportsman, photographer, and aviator— all these add greatly to the color of our school. We owe him a debt of thanks for the lovely-hued pictures that make vivid the poignant memories of our Alma Mater.

MRS. SEAY

This gracious, attractive lady has capably taken her place as acting Dean of Women and has endeared herself to all with her ready, warm smile and her sincere, youthful interest in her girls.

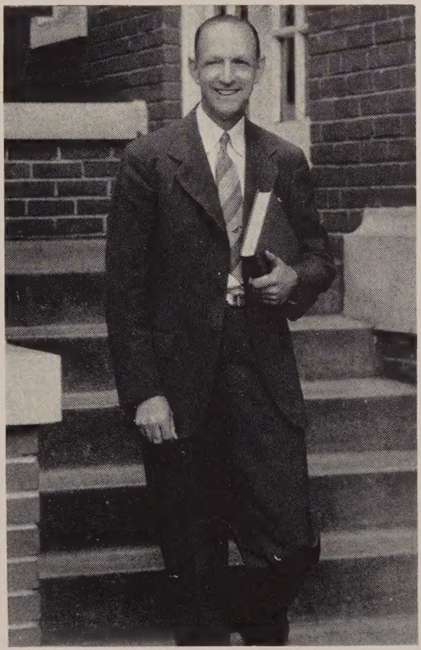
MR. BROWN

Efficiency personified coupled with a keen sense of humor tend to make our Vice-President the understanding, charming, genuine person that he is. A spontaneous hospitality, a lover of outdoor relaxation, profound appreciation for man's literary expression, a knack with the pen which delights all—combine to make him deep.

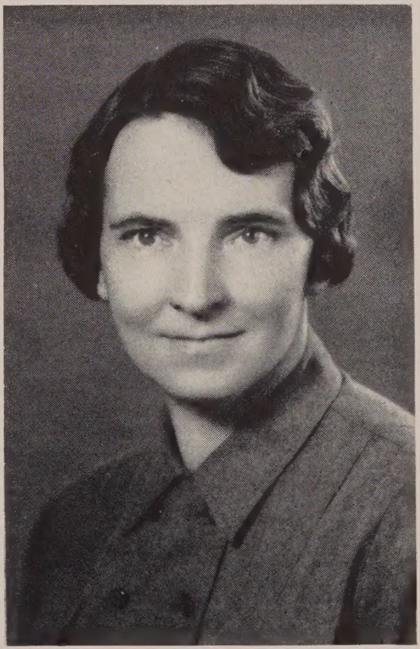
MISS PFLUG

The essence of culture is this gentle lady whose blue eyes, truly the windows of her soul, reflect her touching unselfishness, earnest, diligent striving for perfection, her ability to see the beautiful and the good of nature and of life.

MRS. SEAY



MR. BROWN



MISS PFLUG

The FACULTY

Miss McCoy. . . . . History

Cosmopolitan, cultured, clairvoyant, challenging—her coveted counsel is sought after.

Mrs. Harrison. . . . . Sociology and Psychology

Individualism that is refreshing—enthusiasm that is catching—and a practical philosophy that is exhilarating.

Miss Mize. . . . . Mathematics

We learn exactness and fairness from this brilliant mathematician—who is always helpful and generous with her time.

Miss Clarke. Chemistry

Varied interests claim this versatile and capable personality. Her inspiring appreciation, gentleness and sweetness make us love her.

Miss Cornish. . . . . Biology

Our "Vivacious Lady" has all the aliveness and vitality of spring. Fairness and sincerity make her the genuine and charming confidante of the students.

Mrs. Matthews. . . . . Librarian

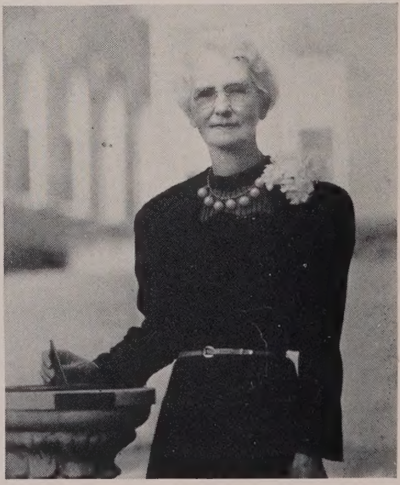
A delicate pattern of sweetness and gentleness entwined with forcefulness and spirit.



The FACULTY

MR. COOKE. . . . . English and Bible

Spiritual, tolerant, understanding, witty—a philosopher of ideals, appreciative of human personality—a cosmopolitan, sensitive connoisseur of the arts, talented and original—he inspires admiration from all.

MISS CURRY. . . . . English

Feminine, attractive, intellectual, and well-rounded, she has all the freshness of a newly opened rose.

MR. BRAND. . . . . Speech and Economics

Common sense and sound judgment equip this humane individual with rare and valuable assets—much needed in our modern world.

MISS STRONG. . . . . Latin and Spanish

MISS RUST. . . . . Secretarial

Quiet and unaffected she goes about her work in a pleasant and appealing way.

MISS CUSHMAN. . . . . High School

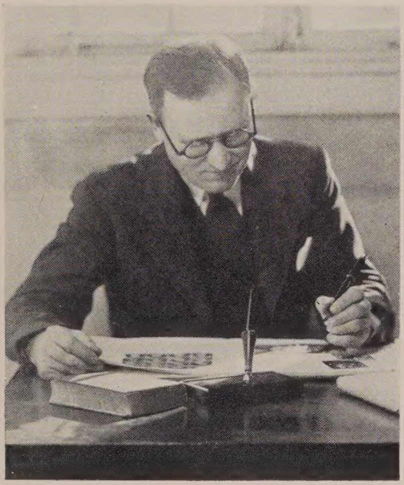
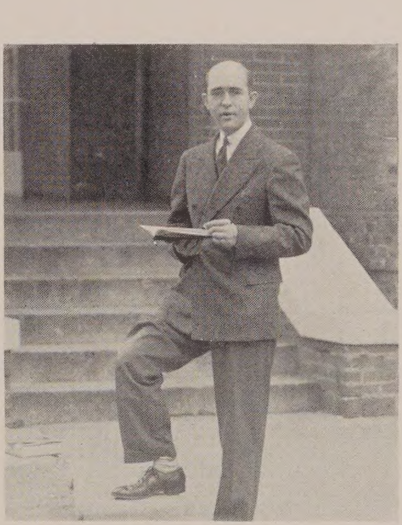
Dainty and petite is this lover of music who with a quiet serenity moves from one task to another, accomplishing all in her unaffected way.





The FACULTY

Miss Bingham . . . . Secretarial

Dignity reigns supreme here, yet there is always a twinkle in her eye, for she is quick to sense the humorous in life.

Miss Stephenson . . . . Secretarial

Winsome smile and translucent complexion—"blithe spirit"—she is a true Kentucky thoroughbred.

Miss Reid . . . . Secretarial

Active, able, agreeable—a consoling and sympathetic friend.

Miss Lucas . . . . Physical Education

At once collegiately debonair and excitingly exotic, her stimulating, changing moods intrigue us.

Mrs. Walton . . . . Home Economics

A striking sophisticate—charmingly feminine is this tall, attractive, "domesticate."

Miss Miller . . . . Home Economics

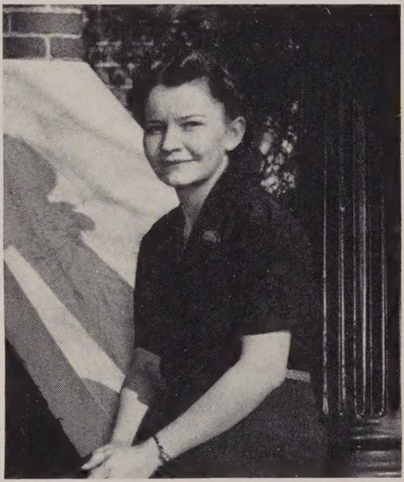
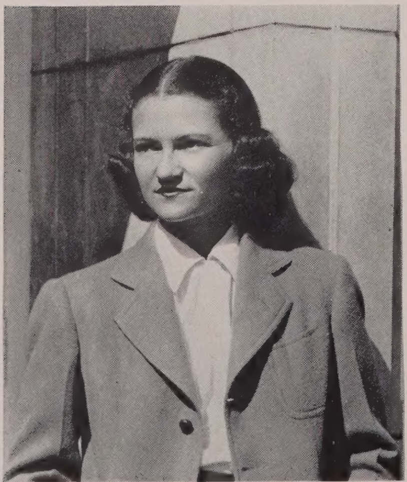
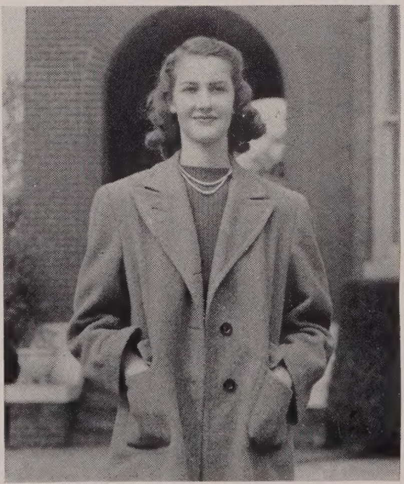
Neat and precise is this smart, calm, and tolerant person whom we always find conscientious and ready to help.







The FACULTY

MR. AND MRS. SCHROETTER . . . . Music

His interpretive genius makes him master at the organ—his jesting leaves us smiling—he is a friend to all.

Dancing brown eyes reveal a winsome disposition. Deep is her love of the beautiful and her confidence in the students.

MISS ORDWAY . . . . Violin and Orchestra

As we round the bend of Harmony Lane, the haunting strains of her violin follow us. We go on our way happy in the warmth of her smile.

MISS PASHLEY . . . . Music

Quick and ready with her delightful spontaneous smile and witty repartee—she challenges accomplishment with her musical finesse.

MISS NUNNALLY . . . . Dramatics

Her vigorous, forceful, impelling spirit moves us onward to higher achievement. She is always open to the stimulating happenings of the world.

MISS JONES . . . . Art

Sensitively artistic she has a personal and constructive interest in each student.

MRS. KELLY . . . . Dancing

Her dynamic personality reveals an intense love of life and an artistic, creative spirit.

The FACULTY

Mrs. Thompkins. . . . . House Mother

"Blithe Spirit"—she is a modern mother to her girls. Her smiling eyes show her youthfulness.

Mr. Peterson. . . . . Riding

At home on the trail—happy and contented when with his prized horses—truly appreciative of nature's beauties.

Miss Hutton. . . . . . . High School and Swimming

Carefree and happy-go-lucky is V. I.'s talented aquatic star who is the essence of naturalness and has a sparkling sense of humor.

Mrs. Bierbaum. . . . . House Mother

She graciously and lovingly "mothers" her girls—we catch the reflection of her radiant love of V. I. when first we meet her.

Miss Foran. . . . . Nurse

Placing duty first, our sympathetic comforter is ever ready to give aid wherever needed.

Mrs. Knight. . . . . Dietitian

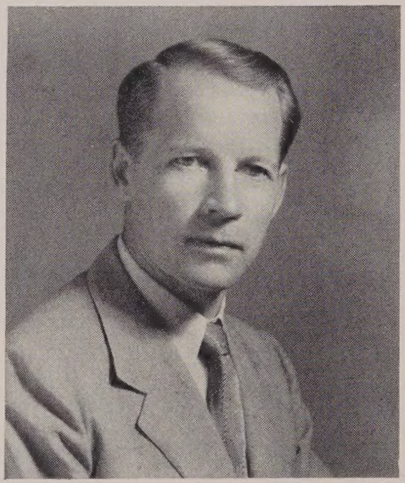
Because of her competency and interest in her girls, she inspires the highest degree of effort from them.



The FACULTY

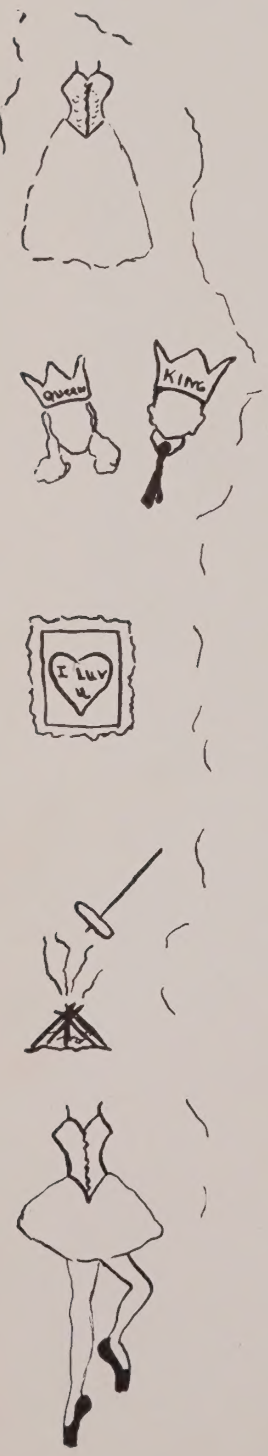
Dear Diary,



SEPTEMBER 10—

I'm back . . . back at my "second Mother dear".

It's wonderful to be here and see old friends, old buildings . . . and the same old Bristol smoke, a "Good Place to Live."

Only hope I'll be able to find my way to bed tonight, my room's so full of baggage and this year's supplies.

There goes that bell and the "steamboat whistle" for lunch. It's a dash for the dining rooms and . . . the cornbread.

SEPTEMBER 26—

Today was the big day. The Kiwanis Outing.

I had a rendezvous with good old Momma Nature, and it almost lasted, too long. Some of us city-slickers got lost on a range of mountains (we tried to follow the path that said "To the C. C. C. Camp") and thought we were braving the wilds of Borneo. But thanks to my keenest sense organ—the nose—I smelt our way back to civilization when the aroma of hot-dogs came drifting up the mountainside.

But oh, I wish my legs didn't ache so now!

Mountains are lovely to look at, but, next time, I refuse to show my geological talent and explore. I'll take for granted what they are.

OCTOBER 4—

Last night I got into the swing of things again.

Not lessons!

I mean the swing of our opening dances.

Sure was funny to watch the Juniors looking like they were attending their first dance . . . with bewilderment at the new ideas of girl-breaking, smooth dancing, and "punch" on the side for refreshment.

NOVEMBER 5—

Our first concert was given by Miss Traubel tonight. I've never heard such a beautiful voice in all my long nineteen years.

To those who hid under the bed tonight to avoid attending it . . . I wash my hands of your company henceforth.

NOVEMBER 10—

Whee, did I work today!

Spent three hours with Napoleon in the library for history. But had to take shelter among the book racks when some student government girls came in . . . and I was there with unconventional slacks on.

NOVEMBER 14—

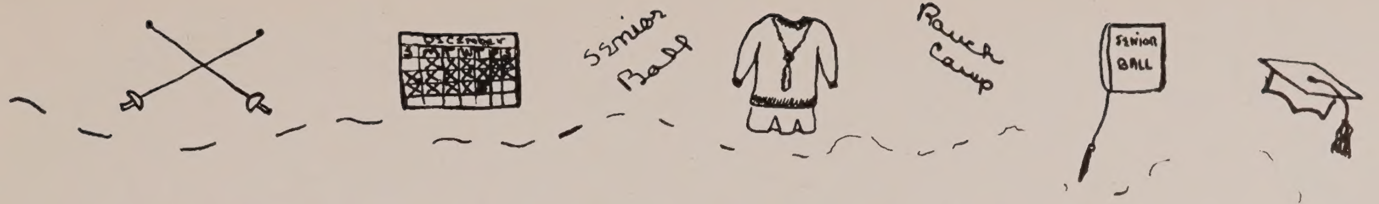
We had a loud entertainment tonight. A carnival.

Everybody shouting: "Buy this . . . do that."

Nobody doing what anybody else was doing. Fortune Telling, Bingo, Throw and Win . . . games copied after any carnival.

But we struck originality by swinging away in a Sweater and Skirt Dance, and all great talent of jitterbugging was displayed.

Chattanooga Choo Choo
Chattanooga



NOVEMBER 28—

"Oh those dark eyes! . . . Oh, those Russians!"

The whole school went wild with enthusiasm at the Don Cossack's singing; and proved that we like something better than the Pepsi-Cola quartet . . . "that hits the spot."

NOVEMBER 30—

Today's Sunday.

Went to Sunday School and Church, and enjoyed both, only I felt too well the irritating pangs of hunger besetting me. And like a heathen, I dreamed of the physical things of life, although it was entirely involuntary action, for I couldn't help it if eggs and bacon kept floating across my vision.

Then faced with reality . . . and chicken and toast, I ate so much that the girls at the table appropriately termed me "hun" and "barbarian".

DECEMBER 6—

Almost couldn't decide whether to go to the Christmas dance, or to wash my week's laundry.

I went to the dance, instead . . . where I forsook the wash line to employ the use of another "line".

DECEMBER 11—

We just ended our week of religious talks given by Mr. Clausen.

It was a very inspirational service, only someone dropped her pearls, and, unfortunately, it took the whole chapel hour for them to roll all the way down to the front.

DECEMBER 13—

We did something nice today. With the money otherwise spent on ourselves at the tea-hole . . . we played Santa Claus to the unfortunate children of Bristol at our regular Charity Tree.

And some mothers were almost minus their children, we liked them so much.

Our Christmas play tonight, "The Goose Hangs High," really stood "high" in our estimation of a good and thoroughly entertaining play. No pearls were broken during the performance, no terrible coughs bellowed forth, and no snoring was heard. What more could the actors ask of the audience here?

It was their highest tribute.

DECEMBER 15—

Boy, time's flying. It won't be long before I prove to Thomas Wolfe that "you can go home again".

Holidays are only three more days off . . . three long days 'til I reach heaven via the Chattanooga Special. "Won't you carry me home?"

JANUARY 7—

The saying goes that every perfect dream has its end.

I believe it!

I arrived back at school with a hang-over of Christmas memories, and there's work to be done. . . . Well, don't count on me to do it.

At the moment I'd rather hear "This Love of Mine, goes on . . ."

But I instead must "go on" to classes.

JANUARY 10—

The Seniors got together at the Colonial Grill and had a lovely dinner. As a prelude to exams it was a nice affair, 'cause the poor girls ravishingly devoured their meal as if it were their last . . . sort of like prisoners do before their execution. Only we are given a chance and stay in a "concentration camp."

JANUARY 24—

Exams are here!

And this place resembles a tomb.

Doors are locked, signs stick out . . . "Please don't disturb", and the only hints of activity are every now and then meek looking souls, who are merely shadows of their former selves, either going to their exam, or "falling" out of them.

Did anybody say this was a place of rare beauties?

Rare is right; they are nowhere to be found now.

JANUARY 27—

The Seniors went in "mourning" this morning.

Wearing all black, and having matching black circles under the eyes, they marched through the dining rooms at breakfast, woefully singing of their deep misery: "We're so unhappy our brains are almost numb".

Special volume was added to the singing as the victims of English passed Mr. Cooke's table. And they looked at him like he must'a written "Hamlet".

I'm on my way to the bright lights of Broadway. Just got handed a boy's part in "Stagedoor". Knowing my acting ability, guess after this performance, it will be the last stage-door I ever enter.

FEBRUARY 7—

We inaugurated a new dance here tonight . . . Senior Dance. Also the usage of a date book for no-break dances. Everything was smooth, including the orchestra, the boys and even the girls, who blacked out their hair with carbon paper, for good looks or "defense" reasons.

FEBRUARY 8—

Today was Monday! Good old movie day. I saw "How Green Was My Valley".

And discovered it wasn't very "green". A big snow had come up, and I was caught without my galoshes or 25c. Whatta climb up the hill!

FEBRUARY 9—

This is the beginning of the week I receive my rightful name.

I'm called a nut . . . to be more specific, a peanut.

For willingness to bear under this humiliating name, I acquire a shell that does nice things daily for me.

While I, in turn, also receive a nut. It's really one of the best weeks of school when you go out of your way to be good to somebody besides yourself.

MARCH 21—

The Annual had its big dance tonight.

And the staff members felt rewarded for all their work when dancing in the figure with their partners.

MARCH 31—

I've just seen "Ladies in Retirement".

No, not girls from Senior Hall.

But a play concerning some other crazy women. Quite a weird story . . . Pardon me a moment, dear Diary, while I see if the door's locked. Not that I'm scared, just a bit uneasy.

APRIL 2—

Easter time is the time for . . . eggs? Well, maybe.
But it's also the time for Spring vacations.
So I'll just say "au revoir" to you, Diary, until April 8.

APRIL 20—

I had a date tonight.

Not with that "dream" from home, but with a "real" little Junior at the big Junior-Senior banquet.

'Twas a good banquet . . . but I kind'a miss the beans; I've had them so often that I've really become quite attached to the little things.

MAY 2—

The campus looks like "Love in Bloom" this week-end with all the Romeos cluttering it up for Spring Dances.

It's a big event . . . especially 'cause the girls go out to dinner and eat those steak dinners they've been dreaming of for months.

MAY 14—

Tonight I found out we have a Glee Club here. Don't know why they've been in seclusion like Garbo or something . . . 'cause they're really good.

Sounded like some of Phil Spitalney's stuff.

MAY 15—

I went to the Art Show today and wondered why I haven't gotten my profile painted by some of my fellow-students. They have some artists here who ought to paint Mrs. Roosevelt some day.

MAY 18—

Horses and girls looked lovely today prancing around the field at the Horse Show. And usually the horses kept in good step with the girls' riding.

MAY 21—

Seniors say, "I don't want to set the world on fire" . . . and then at the torchlight service tonight they sure gave a fine impression of wanting to . . . with scattering their torches all over the whole place. But then, we never had seen one of those numerous fires that Bristol is always having.

MAY 23—

Today is May Day. The day when the fairest of the fair ladies give competition to Mother Nature's beauty, and everything is sweetness and light . . . a regular paradise of feminine loveliness.

MAY 25—

I wore my cap and gown today and received my diploma.

My school life at V. I. has ended.

It's time to sign "finis" at the bottom of this page and put you away, Dear Diary.

But I can't. Not really. Sure you'll get dusty with age and time . . . and lots of times I'll forget to reread you; while other things will seem to interest me more.

But sort'a like old spring winds that are forgotten, and suddenly blow against you . . . and you rejoice at their return, so will the memories in your pages, from out of nowhere, come back from time to time . . . sweeter and even more vivid.

So I can't say "good bye." I'll only say . . . "until tomorrow."

JUNIORS

Since the Junior Class does not elect its superlatives until its senior year, and since it is the largest class in school, we feel that some of the outstanding members of the class should be cited.

President Carrie Trader always has a cheerful word for everyone. Good-natured, a good student, and dependable, Carrie is an essential person to the success of any undertaking.

Betty "Snappy" McNeil, vice-president and a day student, is the "pepper-pot" of the group.

Vivacious and vigorous are the words describing Secretary Betty Bane Adair, also a day student, whose lively hands can produce any melody from "a to z."

Isaacs of Arkansas, a vivid red head, is treasurer. Betty is full of energy and is generally recognized as the class wit.

"May I have your attention for the announcements, please?" comes the voice of Barbara Baker whom we hear from at each meal. Hollywood has nothing on us, as some of the students feel that Baker resembles screen star Bette Davis.

"Bunny" Flowers is loved by everyone for her genial personality. She's "feature section material."

Helen "Sis" Warden, star basket-ball player and captain of the Junior Class team, is one of the grandest girls in the school. Combining good sportsmanship at all times with a radiant personality, "Sis" will always be remembered for her fair play and warm friendliness.

Selected the "typical college girl," Harriet Erickson has disappointed no one.

Ada Crabtree, one of the friendliest and most conscientious girls in the school in addition to being an "A" student, is the junior leader in devotionals.

How that diminutive lass Anita Thompson can have so much energy and vitality is a question to most of the students!

Those chic young ladies Donna Winslow and Alice Woodbury are the leading equestriennes. Stylish "Bookie" Hutchins is "a Georgia peach" (and Oh! that drawl!) and is also an expert rider.

Ferne Trivette, "strawberry blond" and dramatic major, knows what she wants and will achieve her success.

That dark "gal" from Michigan, Sue Allen, is another one of the outstanding junior actresses. Others who are stepping out by leaps and bounds in this same field are Odette Holder, Virginia Work, Eleanor Swarzman, Carey Lloyd, Barbara Spooner, Cullen Williams, and Louise Mathes, the girl behind the stage.

She's seen everywhere—Barbara Harrison—a witty girl, superb basket-ball player, and ever ready for fun.

Artist Shirley Poston can certainly "slap off an oil."

Honors for the class musician can equally be divided among Winifred Von Dahm, Bette Davis, Martha Rigell, and Betty Bane Adair. "Freddie" entertains magnificently with her accordion . . . Bette has a great future cut out for her in the vocal world . . . "Marty" handles the marimba and piano with skill.

Athletes who have displayed their prowess and ability both in the gym and on the playing field are Ann Burns, Frances Dassance, "Boots" DeBusk, Ann Follansbee, Hester Higginbotham, Frances Gillespie, Frances Lyons, Bernice McDowell, Tina Pace, Ruth Parish, Anna Ward Peery, Norma Roberts, Josephine Thompson, Barbara Wentz, Virginia Bausback, Dorothy Kay, Jane Kochmit, Elizabeth Robinson.

Looking back over those mentioned above, we see what a really talented and outstanding class we have in the juniors. These are but a few among many. May they continue in their present stride. Here's to the Seniors of 1943!

THE INTERMONT STAFF

The INTERMONT staff proudly presents the annual to you this year. We hope that it will mean more to you than just another year-book. In it we have attempted to envelop the spirit and charm of V. I. It has not been an easy task but every member of the staff feels well paid for the endless hours of work by the joy we have had in recording past experiences for you. This is your book; treasure it. May it always be a pleasant reminder of happy days at Intermont!

What is that ray of hope and joy in our lives every other Tuesday? Why, a new issue of the Cauldron, of course. Then all is as quiet as the dead of night while we catch up on V. I. news and the latest, choicest gossip. The members of the staff and the journalism class sincerely hope that you have enjoyed reading their fluttering efforts as much as they have enjoyed preparing them for publication.

The Baptist Student Union represents all campus religious activities of the Baptists. It seeks to serve not only the members of its own denomination but also the entire college community by promoting spiritual development of students through Christian comradeships, Bible study, prayer, and church membership. The local B. S U. is affiliated with the state and southwide Baptist student groups and sends delegates each year to the conventions. The B. S. U. aim is to make college life Christian and student Christianity maximum.

This organization is both religious and secular in its work. It sponsors the "Big Pals" and "Little Sisters" of orientation week with the traditional get-acquainted pajama parties. The Hallowe'en party, Carnival, Christmas tea, exam week teas, Peanut Week, Day Student's Night, Mr. Schroetter's recital, fall and spring retreats provide entertainment on the campus. The social work includes the Hallowe'en and Christmas parties for needy children, clothes for the needy, visits and financial support of the Janie Hammit Memorial Home. World War II finds it again deep in war work. Twenty-five dollars was sent to Bristol, England. Reforms to meet the changing needs of the school are originated and backed by this organization.

"They that be wise shall shine as the brightness of the firmament and they that turn many to righteousness as the stars forever and ever." This is the watchword of our Y. W. A. As one of the leading religious organizations on the campus, the Young Women's Auxiliary strives to unite the students and faculty in promoting Christian understanding, cooperation, development, and responsibilities among each other and for all with whom we come in contact.

DEBATING SQUAD

The debating squad has taken a step forward this year in raising the local entrance requirements and thereby raising its standard.

Results of its members' work were evident when the organization had winners in all divisions of the Smoky Mountain Tournament. Phi Rho Pi was also well represented at the Dixie, Grand Eastern, and the South Eastern Tournaments.

From time to time, this squad has, in addition to its regular activities, entertained on the campus the speech squads of various other colleges.

PHI RHO PI

A prominent fraternity, outstanding for its activity in the field of debating, is Virginia Intermont's own Virginia Alpha Chapter of the national Forensic Society for Junior Colleges.

The expert tutelage of Mr. Brand, head of the Speech Department, has brought the V. I. speech teams to an enviable position in the forensic world.

DELTA PSI OMEGA

Membership in this National Dramatic Fraternity is the goal every genuine dramatic student strives toward. Intermont's chapter was organized in 1930 and has the distinction of being one of the ten chapters to constitute the chapter membership of the national organization.

CURRY CLUB

Curry Club, organized 24 years ago, was named for Dr. Curry, founder of the Curry School of Expression in Boston. Its enjoyable semi-monthly meetings give every student of Dramatics and Platform Art helpful experiences and an opportunity to develop her talent.

RULES AND REGULATIONS

Ours has been a mighty big order, girls: making rules to keep all "Little Intermonters" happy and safe from harm. But we've tried hard. Hope you have been pleased. If not, we refer you to next year's committee. Happy landing!

SOCIAL

It is to this committee that we can say "thank you" for our many dances enjoyed by Intermonters. With the help of Mrs. Seay they have done much to make this year's social calendar very successful.

ART CLUB

"Versatility personified" may describe many of our V. I. girls, and the Art Club is one of the many outstanding, extra-curricular activities which does much towards promoting such a slogan.

PHI BETA

Phi Beta Fraternity is a national honorary organization for students of music and speech. Alpha Beta chapter was formed at Virginia Intermont in May, 1939, the fraternity itself being founded in 1912 at Northwestern University.

ORCHESTRA

V—aried kinds of appearances through the year.
I—ntermonters all.
O—rdway is the conductor.
R—emember those 5:00 to 6:00 sessions!
C—oncert in the spring.
H—armony Hall our meeting place.
E—ntwistle played 'cello in Music Federation Contest.
S—toots and Dickey—the masculine element.
T—wenty-three aspiring musicians.
R—ehearsals twice a week.
A—ll out for the best ORCHESTRA yet!

GLEE CLUB

Life at Intermont wouldn't be complete without the inspiring music of our Glee Club, and we have been proud for them to represent our school throughout the state on their tours. Under the capable leadership of Mrs. Schroetter they have done some beautiful work, and their music will be one of our most cherished memories of V. I.

DAY STUDENTS

The day students are an integral part of the V. I. student body. Although they lack the uniting force of dormitory life, their participation in regular college activities is whole-hearted and valuable.

Their aim is to help create a better understanding between the boarding and day students.

HOME ECONOMICS

These girls are the ones who concoct the sources of those delicious odors which are wafted through Hodges Hall. Any young man who is planning to live on a budget should get in touch with a member of this club, for you can be sure each girl knows how to run a house capably and efficiently after the able teaching of Miss Dora Miller

The first chapter of Phi Theta Kappa, the national honor society for junior colleges, was installed at Cottey College in the Midwest. In 1927, sponsored by Miss Marguerite Pflug, our present sponsor, Virginia Intermont had the honor of being the first junior college in Virginia to organize a chapter, and one of the first in the East. Now, chapters are in nearly all junior colleges.

To be eligible for membership in Phi Theta Kappa, the student must be taking a fully literary course and making an average of 90 with no grade below 85.

ATHLETICS

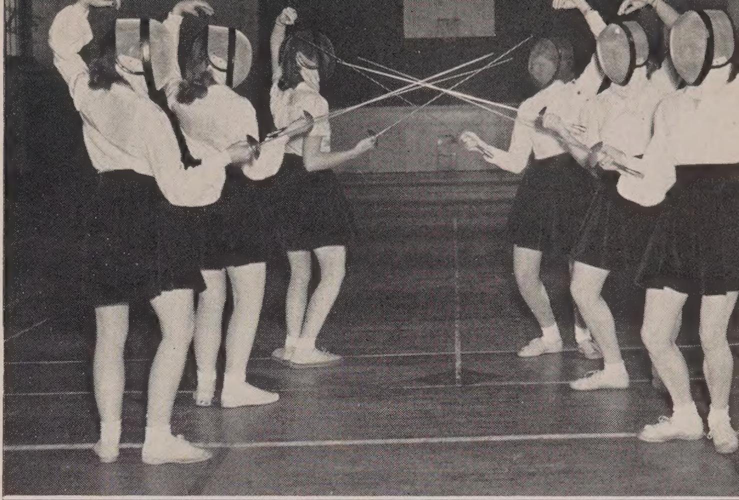
A SPORT FOR ALL—ALL FOR A SPORT

Come fall, come winter, come spring—there's a sport for every girl and a girl for every sport.

Year around riding, one of Intermont's favorite sports, is enjoyed by many girls. Long rides through the trail are the highlights of early fall and spring. The spring brings another big event for the "horse-minded" student—this is the traditional horse show, which brings a fitting climax for the equitation department.

Not Donna and her Don Juans but Donna Winslow and Smokey.

A pretty girl plus a pretty horse equals Sylvia Molesworth, from Texas, on Juan Love.



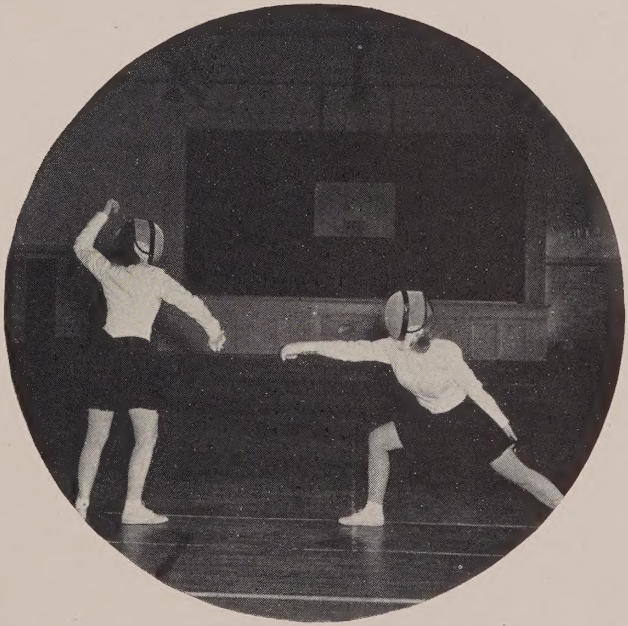
READY—ACTION!

Fencing made its debut at V. I. this year and was unanimously received. This indoor sport has become very popular with the girls.

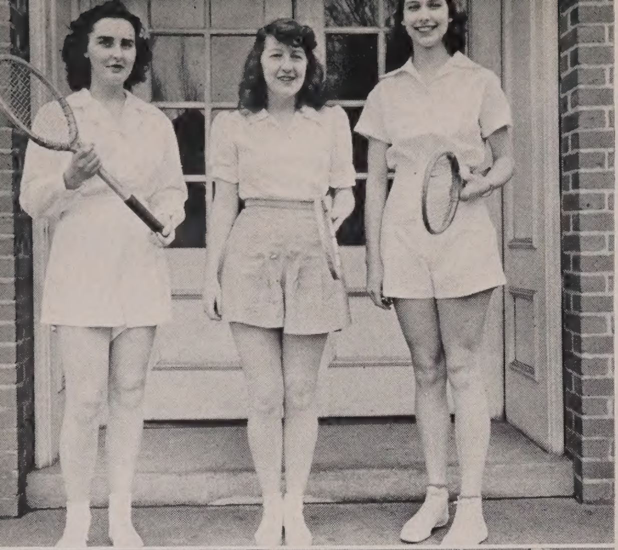
Good sportsmanship, athletic girls, new equipment aid in making V. I.'s fencing team.

Instructoress Ann Follansbee and Jane Fowlkes in a duel.

Three modern lady Robin Hoods shooting high.



GOOD CLEAN FUN!



Alice, Kay and Margaret make for tough competition on the courts.

Who's going to be the first one in? Fraidy cats!

Six mermaids with assistant swimming instructor Kay Mooney. Smile for the birdie!

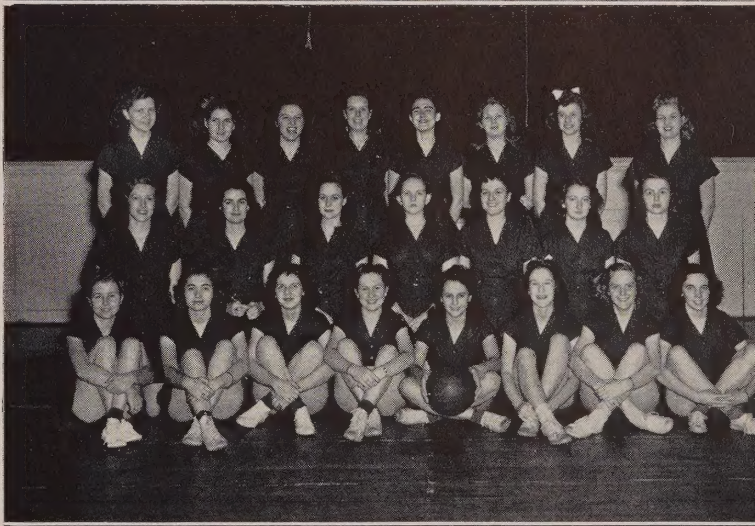
A hockey game played in the spirit of good clean fun—as are all our sports!

Now, now, Mr. Peterson, how did you get in here?

"SHOOT FOR IT . . ."

Basket-ball, most beloved sport at Intermont—what more can we say?

Senior team giving us the benefit of their bright smiles.



Juniors—ready, willing and good players!

High School means basket-ball to a lot on the H. S. team.

Seniors loafing—or weighing in?

Virginia Intermont College

BRISTOL, VA.

An endowed fully accredited Junior College, drawing students from more than thirty states. Limited enrollment with an overflow every session.

Intermont (among the mountains) is located in the suburbs of Bristol, twin cities in Virginia and Tennessee. The Ranch Camp on the thousand-acre college ranch in beautiful Holston Valley affords splendid outing recreation for the students throughout the school year.

Intermont is a leader in the National Junior College Movement in America. Two-year courses in Liberal Arts and leading to A. B. Degree, General Cultural, Vocational and semi-professional courses in Business Art, Music, Speech, Drama, Home Economics, Physical Education, and Library Science. Practically all sports, swimming, riding. Moderate rates. Catalog.

H. G. NOFFSINGER, President
Bristol, Virginia.

V. I. Ranch Camp

Holston Valley — Bristol, Va.-Tenn.

A more delightful spot for a summer vacation is hard to find. Wonderful riding trails over 1,000-acre ranch. Beautiful blue grass country, white fences, and blue mountains off in the distance. Excellent facilities for swimming, tennis, overnight camping, moonlight rides, accordian sings, and chuck wagon suppers. Three age groups—special program for girls from 8 to 20. Mrs. Grace H. Seay, Head Counsellor, Miss Donnie Sue Williamson, assistant, Mrs. Ruth Jackson Walton, Dietitian, and lots of other V. I. folks, including cooks. The Ranch sets a very fine table. Horses from the Intermont stables. For further information, please contact Mrs. H. G. (Sally) Noffsinger, Jr., V. I. C., Bristol, Va.

BUNTING'S for Drugs

Bunting's touches the life of Virginia Intermont as closely as any business in Bristol. It is a great satisfaction to us to know that our Pharmaceutical Department has cooperated with the College Infirmary for many years in protecting the health of V. I. students. All of your films from the bookstore are finished in our Photographic Department, and our Soda Fountain and Toilet Department have always catered to Bristol students. We appreciate your patronage.
